

Dr. Shah can remove (extract) a wisdom tooth/teeth. The procedure often can be done in the office. You may have the surgery in the hospital, especially if you are having all your wisdom teeth pulled at one time or if you are at high risk for complications.

Before removing a wisdom tooth, Dr. Shah will give you a local anesthetic to numb the area where the tooth will be removed. A general anesthetic may be used, especially if several or all of your wisdom teeth will be removed at the same time.